

Name: _____

Date: _____

I. Underline ALL objective complements and circle ALL direct objects (including objects within clauses).

1. The invention of Bakelite, the first synthetic plastic, made Leo Baekland a wealthy man.
2. A Christian should consider nothing too hard for God to perform.
3. Colonel Griffith awarded the Marine pilot the Distinguished Flying Cross.
4. Congress designated the Grand Canyon a national park in 1919.
5. Sportswriters named Red Grange “the galloping ghost” of the gridiron.
6. Igor Sikorsky designed and flew the first four-engined airplane.
7. Boyle’s superb education, sound reasoning, and Biblical faith rendered this scientist an excellent witness of the work of God in nature.
8. Thirty years of experience have made Mr. Clarke an excellent teacher.
9. Mr. Leathers appointed Robert captain of the yard-cleaning crew.
10. Mr. Riley considers Anthony fortunate to have been selected to serve on the committee.
11. The members of the jury found the defendant guilty of perjury.
12. We elected Hannah secretary and treasurer.
13. The players appointed Timothy and Michael captain and co-captain.
14. Three weeks of illness rendered the boy inert and lethargic.
15. The car insurance and repairs kept our budget depleted.
16. In the fall of 2000, U.S. citizens elected George W. Bush President.
17. You will find the twins completely reliable and capable.
18. Critics consider Rembrandt the most thoroughly Protestant painter of the Northern Renaissance.
19. President Nixon appointed William Rehnquist associate justice of the Supreme Court.
20. At Christ’s return, will He find many people faithful and true to Him?

